

Hearts of Joy

When I think back to the places I've been Streets that I've walked, towns I have seen
Friends I have found in each place I've known
All through the years these friendships have grown

They've all seen my best, sometimes my worst
Times I was down and thought I was cursed
I learnt as I went, worked it all through
Often I found a new point of view

As clear as the day when I left our shores
I've been making my way back home
I still see it through the eyes of that boy
Hearts full of love and hearts, hearts of joy

Through all these weird and wonderful times
You're always there at the back of my mind
I still see you now looking so grand
Knowing you're safe in our emerald land

I think of you mother, I think of you dad
My brothers and sisters who once drove me mad
If I had my time to grow up again
Maybe I wouldn't have turned out the same

As clear as the day when I left our shores
I've been making my way back home
I still see it through the eyes of that boy
Hearts full of love and hearts, hearts of joy

As I lie on this bed in a far distant land
I dream of you still holding my hand
Back from our stroll there's a chill in the air
I know that I'm safe, I know that you care

As clear as the day when I left our shores
I've been making my way back home
I still see it through the eyes of that boy
Hearts full of love and hearts, hearts of joy